Important Note: Pls always refer to FB page for real time announcement / LAST MINUTE info

In Asia and the Pacific, there was an emergence of a strong national and regional approach for cooperation on Sustainable Consumption and Production (SCP) implementation. There has been significant progress in promoting and implementing SCP in the region through stakeholder involvement and through a continuous effort for knowledge sharing and private-public partnerships, in line with the global frameworks for cooperation, particularly its contribution to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) 12 and related SDGs. It is important to build on what has been done through these initiatives and to provide the platform for dialogue on how to build and strengthen partnerships to move forward together and emerge stronger towards green recovery post-CoVID-19 pandemic.

The Asia Pacific Roundtable on Sustainable Consumption and Production (APRSCP) is a regional convening network that has been providing a sound platform for multi-stakeholder dialogue and partnerships to advance SCP in the region. In the past 20 years, we have convened 14 Regional Roundtables on SCP and this upcoming 15th APRSCP will be hosted by the Philippines together with supporting partners. The event will be a series of webisode Roundtable Discussion to be held from April 20 to May 11, 2021.

Speakers short info:

Ms. Laksmi Dhewanthi is a government official with almost 30 years of experience in the field of environment and sustainable development. She has a postgraduate background in Environment and Development Policy, from the University of Sussex in the UK. She is currently working in the Ministry of Environment and Forestry of Republic of Indonesia as Director General of Climate Change.

Prior to her current position, she has been assigned for various tasks within the ministry, including development and implementation of various economic instruments for environmental protection and management, i.e. environmental financing program, fiscal and financial incentives schemes and natural resources accounting, as well as international trade related affairs.

In the period of 2013 - 2014, she represented Asian Region as a member of CDM (Clean Development Mechanism) Executive Board of UNFCCC and currently serving as the Immediate Past President of Asia Pacific Roundtable for Sustainable Consumption and Production (APRSCP). Currently, she is the Global Environmental Facility Operational Focal Point (GEF-OFP) for Indonesia and Vice President of the 5th Session of UN Environmental Assembly representing Asia and the Pacific region.

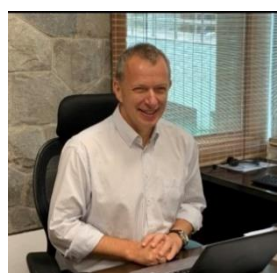

Dr. Stefanos Fotiou is the Director of the Environment and Development Division in the United Nations ESCAP. Stefanos is responsible for the planning and implementation of the UN ESCAP work on natural resources management, climate change, sustainable urban development, green economy as well as for the overall coordination of the follow up and review of the 2030 Agenda and the SDGs. Highlights of his work in his current post include successfully leading intergovernmental negotiations resulting in specific normative outcomes, establishing new initiatives on technical cooperation and capacity development as well as ideating and steering analytical work in the substantive areas of his responsibility. He holds a PhD in Natural Resource Economics, a Master of Science in Information Systems, and a Master of Science in Forestry and Natural Environment.

Ms. Dechen Tsering is the regional director of UN Environment Programme (UNEP) in Asia and the Pacific. As the regional arm of UNEP, the Asia-Pacific office works with governments, local authorities and the private sector to develop and put into place cleaner and safer policies and strategies that encourage the efficient use of natural resources and reduce risks for humans and the environment. She has been actively involved in intergovernmental negotiations as a key negotiator for least-developed countries and contributed to the establishment of the Least Developed Countries Fund and the Least Developed Countries Expert Group.

She comes to UNEP from the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) secretariat, where she served as director of the Finance, Technology and Capacity-building Programme. Ms. Tsering holds a PhD in forest economics and policy from the Federal Institute of Technology, Zurich. She also has a master's degree from Georgetown University and undergraduate degrees from the University of California, Berkeley.

René VAN BERKEL (PhD) is the UNIDO Representative and heads the Regional Office of the United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO) in India. UNIDO works to foster inclusive and sustainable industrialization in its member developing countries. René has over 30 years professional experience in industrial resource efficiency and cleaner production, productivity and innovation, social responsibility and circular economy, with extensive international experience in Europe, Asia and Australia, covering a variety of manufacturing and related sectors, particularly from the perspective of Small and Medium Enterprises. He holds a PhD in Environmental Science from the University of Amsterdam.

Dr. Arab Hoballah joined as Team Leader of EU-SWITCH-Asia SCP Facility since October 2017, with the aim to further induce and enable relevant stakeholders in Central, South and Southeast Asian Countries in developing and delivering policies and actions in support to transformative change for sustainable consumption and production. Arab served as UNEP Chief of Sustainable Consumption and Production/SCP from 2005 to 2016, with a particular focus on Lifestyles, Cities and Industry. Prior to that, he served in senior positions for 20 years in the UNEP/Mediterranean Action Plan and in development projects.

He has launched various global Initiatives and Partnerships related to buildings, cities, tourism and food. Among his achievements together with his teams: putting SCP at highest level in the UN and Government strategies, establishment of the International Resource Panel, adoption of the 10 Year Framework of Programmes for SCP and SDG12, establishment of the Mediterranean Commission for Sustainable Development. He holds a PhD in economic development and a master's in international relations.

Kai Hofmann is an experienced Circular Economy project manager and has worked and lived in over 10 countries on topics such as urban and heritage management, waste management and energy efficiency. In Thailand he now is the director of a portfolio of Sustainable Consumption and Production projects in 9 countries in South-East Asia with focus on Sustainable Public Procurement, Eco-label and Single-Use Plastic prevention.
